

Notes on a Memorial when you walked up to me, babe you told me there were two things two things i could do and i didn't see it, no, i didn't see it

you told me those two things those two things, yeah and i looked straight at you you understood me but I couldn't see it so i could run and hide, yeah look to the sun and the stars, yeah find it lying to pieces on the floor

*or i could stay and fight, plant my feet down grit my teeth and just move on

and when i finally found you lying there, i saw those two things beside you two little things, yeah and then i woke you up from your dream

and then we walked away together and those two things they didn't bother me anymore
